Dear Reverend Lee, Hoon Chang

My family and I are deeply grateful to Rev. Lee Hoon-chang, Jeilsungdo Church, and NPWM for the regular financial support as love gift to us. This support is very valuable for our daily activities in the ministry of reaching people in Manado and the surrounding areas. Praise God for the prayers from our brothers and sisters in Indonesia and at Jeilsungdo Church; I have experienced a tremendous improvement in my health. I have noticed a significant improvement in my heart function. I am now able to walk up a steep 80-meter incline without stopping. Upon reaching the top, I can continue walking another one hundred meters to my home without a break. This is something I could not have done eight years ago, even before I began experiencing heart rhythm issues. Praise God—this is a miracle for me. Thank you for your prayers.

Praise God, He allowed four of us from CCC Manado to serve at a local congregation of the Christian Evangelical Church in Minahasa (GMIM) in Winorangian Village, in Tombatu sub-district of Southeast Minahasa Regency —a community of predominantly traditional Christians located nearly three hours drive by car from Manado. We focused primarily on visiting the homes of congregation members, coordinating our outreach with the local pastor and elders. We shared the assurance of salvation found in Jesus Christ using specific methods and challenged them to accept Christ as their personal Savior and Lord. During the mission trip, I was able to visit 17 homes in the village. I encountered unique situations on two occasions. The first was a visit to a home where a husband, wife, and adult son lived. The husband, Tommy, was bedridden, having suffered a stroke several years prior; he also struggled with hearing loss caused by the medication he was taking. I found it difficult to share the Gospel message because of his hearing problem. After seeking the Holy Spirit's help, I asked if he could read. He said yes and then I moved close to his bedside and asked him to read the Gospel message aloud so that his wife and son could hear it as well. When we reached the point of making a decision and surrender their lives to God, the father led the prayer. After we had settled the matter of assurance of salvation, I asked Mr. Tommy if there was anything specific he wanted me to pray for. He replied that he wished to be able to work and serve his family again. I felt that recovery merely for the sake of working was not the ultimate goal, so I asked him what he would do if he were healed. He finally answered that he wanted to serve in the church. When asked how many more years he desired, he said ten years. I then prayed that God would grant Mr. Tommy a second chance, particularly regarding his desire to serve the Lord in the church. I placed Mr. Tommy’s hope entirely in God’s hands. I left the house with full of hope God answer the prayer.

The second instance involved sharing the good news of assurance of salvation with a young man named Ariel (19 years old-in the picture), who was uncertain about his relationship with God. After he gained assurance through God’s work—using the Four Spiritual Laws booklet, as a tool—I asked if he had recently experienced anything significant regarding his spiritual life. He revealed that, some time ago, he had encountered the power of darkness. While riding his motorcycle, his mind went blank, and he was no longer in control of his actions; consequently, he crashed and was injured. He was taken to a central hospital in Manado. The attending physician noted that his injuries were minor and should not have caused a loss of consciousness, yet he had indeed lost awareness for a time. It turned out to be the influence of dark powers. He had previously received ministry from a servant of God for deliverance from this darkness. However, after returning from the hospital, he rarely attended church and failed to grow in prayer or Scripture reading. I prayed for him—asking for the removal of any lingering effects of that darkness—and instructed him to pray, read the Bible regularly, and memorize verses from God's Word. I also encouraged him with the truth that the Lord Jesus is greater than all things. Please pray that Ariel grows in his faith as a young man, even amidst a lack of committed Christian peers.

Please also pray for my wife and me this August as we reach out to various campuses around Manado. Pray for our outreach to young people in our city; may God open opportunities and unlock doors for the proclamation of the Gospel.

Once again, thank you for covering my family and me in prayer. Thank you for all the kindness we have received. May God of abundance give all of our needs to complete the task in our generation.

Sincerely,

Rentje L. Rendus
